Southwest Journalist
TEXAS DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION
The Texas Democratic Convention will be held online over the week. Special guests such as Vice President Joe Biden and House Speaker Nancy Pelosi will be in attendance. Read more at swjournalist.com.

Amid racial unrest, police officers on Memorial Day. “We have the greatest country in the world,” Trump declared in an address to the nation. “We’re going to keep it safe.”

Floyd’s family releases autopsy, pleas for peace

BY AMY FORD AND STEVE KARNOWSKI

MINNEAPOLIS — An autopsy commissioned for George Floyd’s family found that he died of asphyxiation due to neck and back compression. When a Minneapolis police officer held him face down on the ground for minutes, the family’s attorneys said Monday, the man’s family acutely mistrusted local authorities to produce an unbiased autopsy. Floyd’s family, like the families of other black men killed by police, wanted an independent look because they didn’t trust local authorities to produce an unbiased autopsy.

The family’s autopsy differs from the official autopsy as described in a criminal complaint and in a July hearing. The family’s autopsy differed. The family’s attorneys included the cuts visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The National Guard in D.C. will be armed with active-duty or National Guard members from five states were being sent to Washington to provide assistance. Those troops were other duties on the general or expected to arrive by midnight.

Under the Civil War-era Posse Comitatus Act, federal troops are prohibited from performing domestic law enforcement actions such as making arrests, seizing property or searching people. In extreme cases, however, the president can strike the same exception, Act, then again the Civil War, which hands the use of active duty or National Guard troops to the president.

The officials said that some of the National Guard in D.C., will be armed and others will not. They said that the D.C. National Guard has the task of de-escalation. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard.

Trump calls National Guard amid protests

Dallas begins making arrests as Texas riots continue

WASHINGTON — President Donald Trump has threatened to send in the military to quell protests, saying on Monday that governors get tougher curfews to get under control.

The officials said that some of the National Guard in D.C., will be armed and others will not. They said that the D.C. National Guard has the task of de-escalation. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard.

Trump told the governors they need to be more vigorous in cracking down on violence among those demonstrating, he said, that other states have already on the ground or expected to be sent to Washington to provide assistance. Those troops were other duties on the general or expected to arrive by midnight.

Under the Civil War-era Posse Comitatus Act, federal troops are prohibited from performing domestic law enforcement actions such as making arrests, seizing property or searching people. In extreme cases, however, the president can strike the same exception, Act, then again the Civil War, which hands the use of active duty or National Guard troops to the president.

The officials said that some of the National Guard in D.C., will be armed and others will not. They said that the D.C. National Guard has the task of de-escalation. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard.

Trump called National Guard amid protests

Dallas begins making arrests as Texas riots continue

President Donald Trump holds a Bible as he visits outside St. John’s Church across Lafayette Park from the White House. President Donald Trump has threatened to send in the military to shut down federal actions such as making arrests, seizing property or searching people. In extreme cases, however, the president can strike the same exception, Act, then again the Civil War, which hands the use of active duty or National Guard troops to the president.

The officials said that some of the National Guard in D.C., will be armed and others will not. They said that the D.C. National Guard has the task of de-escalation. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard.

Trump called National Guard amid protests

Dallas begins making arrests as Texas riots continue

The official autopsy last week provided some other details about injuries, and toxicology results can take weeks. In the V.C.I. call that showed Floyd’s family released an autopsy, pleas for peace

BY AMY FORD AND STEVE KARNOWSKI

MINNEAPOLIS — An autopsy commissioned for George Floyd’s family found that he died of asphyxiation due to neck and back compression. When a Minneapolis police officer held him face down on the ground for minutes, the family’s attorneys said Monday, the man’s family acutely mistrusted local authorities to produce an unbiased autopsy. Floyd’s family, like the families of other black men killed by police, wanted an independent look because they didn’t trust local authorities to produce an unbiased autopsy.

The family’s autopsy differs from the official autopsy as described in a criminal complaint and in a July hearing. The family’s autopsy differed. The family’s attorneys included the cuts visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The National Guard in D.C. will be armed with active-duty or National Guard members from five states were being sent to Washington to provide assistance. Those troops were other duties on the general or expected to arrive by midnight.

Under the Civil War-era Posse Comitatus Act, federal troops are prohibited from performing domestic law enforcement actions such as making arrests, seizing property or searching people. In extreme cases, however, the president can strike the same exception, Act, then again the Civil War, which hands the use of active duty or National Guard troops to the president.

The officials said that some of the National Guard in D.C., will be armed and others will not. They said that the D.C. National Guard has the task of de-escalation. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard.

Trump called National Guard amid protests

Dallas begins making arrests as Texas riots continue

President Donald Trump has threatened to send in the military to quell protests, saying on Monday that governors get tougher curfews to get under control.

The officials said that some of the National Guard in D.C., will be armed and others will not. They said that the D.C. National Guard has the task of de-escalation. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard. The military police that are visible in the city are members of the National Guard.
CAPTURE THE FLAG

LAPUAN, 14

Pyongyang, North Korea, declared on Monday that it had conducted a test of the most powerful nuclear device ever developed by the hermit kingdom, a move that could accelerate its drive toward a fully operational nuclear arsenal.

The declaration came after North Korean leader Kim Jong Un, who has been silent on nuclear matters for months, spoke at the site of a new nuclear weapon test. The North Korean government said the test was an "excellent" success, and the country's nuclear weapons program had reached a "new stage of development." The declaration was the first since the country announced it had tested a hydrogen bomb in January.

LOUGANIS, 34

The former American swimmer, who won five Olympic gold medals and 11 world championship titles, died of complications from a ruptured aortic aneurysm on Friday. He was 61.

Louganis was known for his ability to push through pain and injuries, including a fractured skull in 1988 that left him with a scar that he referred to as "the upside-down Y." He also won a silver medal in the 1980 Olympics in Moscow, a victory that was later stripped away because of the boycott.

CAPTAIN

FLOYD, 34

The police officer who killed George Floyd in Minneapolis, Minnesota, has been charged with murder and manslaughter.

Floyd, who was black, died in police custody on May 25 after being restrained by officers for several minutes. The officers, who were later fired, were seen on video kneeling on Floyd's neck for more than eight minutes.

Floyd's death led to widespread protests and calls for police reform in the United States and around the world.

CAPTAIN

FLOYD, 34

The police officer who killed George Floyd in Minneapolis, Minnesota, has been charged with murder and manslaughter.

Floyd, who was black, died in police custody on May 25 after being restrained by officers for several minutes. The officers, who were later fired, were seen on video kneeling on Floyd's neck for more than eight minutes.

Floyd's death led to widespread protests and calls for police reform in the United States and around the world.